Genetically Modified Legislators: Monsanto and GMO Money in Hawaii (parentheses denotes associations)

Monsanto has 6 registered lobbyists: John H. Radcliffe (who represents 19 clients), George "Red" Morris, Dawn Bicoy, Paul Koehler, Alan Takemoto, Fred Perlak, and Alicia Maluafiti. Radcliffe and Morris have an iron grip on our politicians. Maluafiti is the Executive Director of Hawaii Crop Improvement Association, 'The Lobbyist' for the 5 biotech companies in Hawaii- Monsanto, Syngenta, Pioneer (DuPont), Bayer, and BASF. Radcliffe, Morris, and Maluafiti have personally donated thousands of dollars to the lawmakers, and Monsanto has given $250-$1000 per legislator or councilmember. Robert S. Toyofuku and Derek Naten represent Bayer, Scott Matsuura (A&B) and James Pacopac work for Syngenta.

Next steps:

1. Support a bill or ordinance to label genetically modified foods grown, manufactured, and sold in Hawaii. Oahu, Maui, Kauai and Hawaii counties have already passed resolutions to label GMO. The next step is to pass a state bill.
2. Vote with your dollars! Do not buy Hawaiian papaya and products containing soy, corn, canola, cottonseed unless labeled non GMO
3. We must educate everyone that Hawai'i is the experimental GMO field trial lab of the world.
4. Encourage farmers and food producers to independently label their foods non GMO. Support local farmers growing organic and non GMO. Many use seeds from the UH. Buy at farmers markets. Educate produce managers.
5. Grow a garden in your backyard. Encourage neighbors to grow gardens and rooftop gardening, see Foodscapes. Support school gardens not funded by GMO companies. Encourage healthy fresh food in the schools.
6. Attend town hall meetings, find out lawmakers' stance on GMO, and educate them about biotech's real motives.

Our only chance of passing a GMO labeling bill is if we vote out the GMO lawmakers in August & November 2012.
